The why and how of

"In Their Shoes"

Because cancer has affected many women in the Athens area, Anne Hansen & Gaylene Ward, local residents, wanted to raise funds and awareness for cancer and the Loran Smith Center for Cancer Support.

In Their Shoes is a 13.1-mile one-day walk to recognize those who have lived with cancer and raise funds for the Loran Smith Center for Cancer Support.

In Their Shoes is a walk symbolic of the long road of treatment through surgery, chemotherapy, radiation therapy, and post-treatment.

Walkers celebrate survivors and honor those we have lost.

The funds raised from In Their Shoes benefit the Loran Smith Center for Cancer Support. The Center provides non-medical support services (most at no charge) to anyone in the community.

The first walk was on November 18, 2006 and six years later, walkers and sponsors have raised over $644,000.

ALL money raised by the walk stays right here in our local community to benefit our cancer patients, survivors, and their families.

Won't YOU "give local" to help your friends, family, and neighbors?
